Subject: Shelf Life Statement

To whom it may concern,

As required by FDA regulations, Detrex Chemicals assigns a shelf life in the form of a product expiration date to all of our drug grade hydrochloric acid products. This expiration date is applied to each container we fill. This expiration date is supported by stability testing conducted by Detrex in compliance with the regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 21, Part 211, Subpart G, Section 211.137.

Detrex does not warrant the shelf life / expiration date of our drug product. Product older than the expiration date, or in circumstances where the product may not have been stored or handled correctly, Detrex customers are advised to evaluate the conformity of the product to specifications and suitability for the intended use of the product.

Sincerely,
